

AQUATIFUR

OCT 20-22 2017 KALAHARI RESORTS, WI DELLS

WELCOME

A furry con at a water park—who would've thought? From concept to reality, here we are. AquatiFur is upon us! I want to personally thank every single one of you (especially those who are reading this XD) for making this event even possible. From every attendee to every person on staff, this would not have been possible without you all!

We are excited to host this convention in Wisconsin Dells and show attendees from across the country, world (and the one cheeky attendee who says they are coming from outer space :P) what the Dells and Wisconsin as a state and community has to offer.

Here at AquatiFur, our hidden theme was "stay afloat" (get it, 1st con staying afloat? I know, I shouldn't be allowed to write these letters, but here I am!) and you all have helped do that. We have stayed afloat with our numbers, our programming, and our staff. That being said, we ALWAYS welcome more friends, family, staff, and programming to AquatiFur and hope to see you all in future years and that we can put on one of the best conventions you've been to!

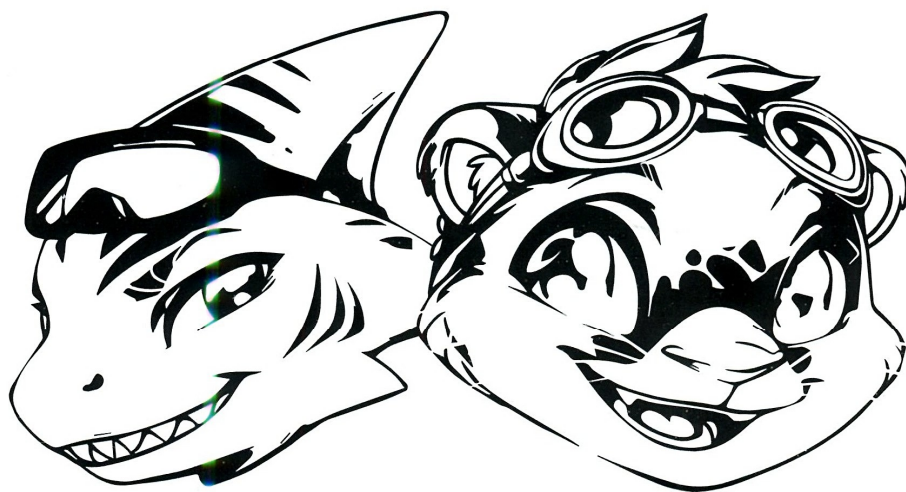

While you're here, please make sure to take up on all the things offered here from the programming, to the water park and indoor theme park and beyond! We hope to make not only one of your favorite conventions, but vacation destinations to come!

Helping to revolutionize the way concept art is handled and produced, they have now done more than one thousand concepts for the community since 2009. "Furry" continues to be a huge source of inspiration for Neon Slushie and the group as a whole has been tremendously supportive of their work and interests.

CHARITY INFO

Paws & Claws

Jenn Garrett, owner of the Paws & Claws Petting Zoo and Animal Sanctuary in Illinois, will be attending AquatiFur as our charity guest. Jenn is raising money to help with the relocation of animals, including exotic fauna, that are in need of permanent homes. She is also looking to build more enclosures so that her organization can rescue even more animals in need of homes or help. The sanctuary provides animals with a loving environment and quality care from its handlers. It is home to an assortment of big cats such as tigers, pumas, and bobcats, and other creatures from their resident fox Swiper to barnyard animals, including horses rescued from kill pens. Paws & Claws Petting Zoo and Animal Sanctuary is a 501(c)3 and USDA approved.

"The sanctuary provides animals with a loving environment and quality care from its handlers."

Jenn does not only take in animals, but also children who have lost their parents. She is a loving mother to six sons and currently cares for her autistic nephew on the farm. Jenn states, "I'm so blessed to be doing this. In my heart, I believe that these animals were born with the right to live out their lives as God intended!" She's currently receiving requests to house animals from other sanctuaries due to overcrowding. The sanctuary has room, but needs to build enclosures large enough to house them comfortably.

Meet our charity Paws & Claws! From foxes to tigers, Jenn rescues them all! She needs our help to build more enclosures for her rescue so she can rescue even more of us!

This includes the location hosting AquatiFur, Kalahari Resorts and Conventions. The function and event spaces specifically designated for AquatiFur are for the benefit of the badge holders and attendees only. Only the legal badge holder should have their designated badge. There is no transferring or sharing of badges allowed. Badges must be visible for any AquatiFur event admission. The badges are property of the AquatiFur event, and will be shown or relinquished by any AquatiFur staff on order.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

To help keep the resort and event clean, happy, and safe, we ask that as a badge holder and attendee you follow the resort's rules. Per Wisconsin Statute Chapter 944.15 and 944.20, all attendees and badge holders are required to wear clothing that is not suggestive, obscene, or indecent. Fursuits are only allowed in the convention center. This includes not having fursuits in restaurants, the waterpark, the indoor theme park, and common areas for safety reasons. You may, however, wear the fursuit to and from your registered room only.

The list below states all that are specifically off limits:

No unmanned aerial vehicles, flying cameras, or drones are allowed on property. No sleeping in any common areas such as the lobbies, hallways, and other public spaces. No skateboards, hoverboards, scooters or any similar items are allowed on property. No outside food or drink is allowed in the waterpark. No gear of impersonation outfits are allowed. This includes any amount of tactical gear, hotel staff, EMS, firefighters, or law enforcement. No objects are to be thrown off of any floors. No derogatory remarks or displays are allowed. No bare feet in the convention space. This is allowed elsewhere in the hotel areas outside of the theme park. Any form of hate, provoking, or harassing clothing articles are not allowed. This includes, but not limited to, armbands, headbands, shirts, pants, shoes, fursuits, costumes, and any props. Per Wisconsin State Statute 101.123 Wisconsin Act 12, smoking is not allowed in any enclosed areas. No smoking is allowed in any of the rooms, hallways, or common areas. You may smoke outside away from doors, in marked areas, and balconies.

As stated by the Americans with Disabilities Act 28 CFR 36.104, animals with the exception of service animals are not allowed on Kalahari Property.

HARASSMENT

AquatiFur does not allow harassment of any kind. AquatiFur is committed to bringing a harassment-free, and safe event for all to enjoy. We would want all badge holders, volunteers, staff, and guests to have an enjoyable experience aside from what your age, race, occupation, gender, sexual orientation, physical appearance, disability, or personal belief may be. If you feel you are being harassed, please contact any staff member of AquatiFur, as soon as you are able to do so.

Harassment is a serious violation of the code of conduct and will not be tolerated.

Please respect other's wishes.

CONVENTION SECURITY

Please note that Kalahari does have its own security and will direct any convention related issues to the convention security. However, in the event of an emergency, Kalahari's security and/or convention security can call 911 if requested. The convention security responsibility is for the badge holder and attendees. Any concerns about the code of conduct or safety for the convention can be directed to AquatiFur's convention security team. Any issues about staff can be brought to the directors and the convention head.
